Dear Parents/Carers

I write this letter with no specific update in mind. I just wanted you to know that as a father myself, I appreciate how hard everything is at the moment, especially home-schooling and juggling other things such as work commitments. Times are tough and it is taking a toll on our mental health and unlike the previous lockdowns, we also have the dark and wintry weather to contend with. I want you to know that by supporting each other we will get through this together.

We have recently placed our remote education parent guide on the school website and will share it on our school Facebook page also. As you would justifiably expect from us, it sets out the high expectations of the education that we are to offer to all of our students. It also explains how we are to go about supporting you and the students with the work that we provide. All we ask is that you continue to do your best and support us with this.

I know many of our students are currently learning from home, but I must reiterate that we are still here for all of our families. If you need our support, please let us know during the weekly contact you have with our staff or contact us at any time by email or by phone.

Finally, once we know what the Government expectations are and the timeline for re-opening to the wider school community, we will communicate our plan with you as soon as it is possible thereafter.

Kind regards

Jonathan Kenyon
